5.500.000 €

Description:

The scale is difficult to appreciate until you see it in person. 363 hectares of private land, rolling hills, cork oak forests and a freshwater lake that reflects the changing light across the landscape throughout the year.

Located between Jimena de la Frontera and San Martín del Tesorillo, this estate offers a level of privacy that has become increasingly difficult to find in southern Spain. Sotogrande is within easy reach, while Marbella can be reached in approximately ten minutes by helicopter.

The main residence is a traditional Andalusian country house of approximately 1,000 m², arranged around a large central courtyard and distributed across a single floor. Open views extend across the estate in every direction, while several additional buildings provide further accommodation, office space and service areas.

Beyond the main house, the property includes a chapel, wine cellar and lounge area, storage buildings, secondary kitchens and covered porches. All habitable spaces benefit from air conditioning and fireplaces.

The estate is equipped with the infrastructure required to operate
